

UW INTERNATIONAL CONVOCATION

Join UW graduates from around the globe

for the 2011 International Convocation, a three-day conference in Madison. International alumni will return to campus to take part in a conversation with university leaders about how UW-Madison can continue to grow as a world leader in research and education.

Mark your calendar for July 26 to 28, 2011. To ensure that you receive the latest information about the International Convocation, follow developments at uwalumni.com/international, or update your contact data at <http://waa.uwalumni.com/international/update.html>.
